BRIDE'S NAME:

Creating Your Guest List

One of the first steps in planning a bridal shower is putting together the guest list. This can be both an exciting and challenging task, as it involves deciding who will be part of this special celebration. Start by consulting with the bride-to-be to ensure all her important friends and family members are included. Consider the size of your venue and your budget when determining the number of guests. It's a good idea to include each guest's address, phone number, and email, as this will help with sending out invitations and follow-up communication. Remember to keep a balance between close family members, friends, and any other special people in the bride's life. This section includes pages where you can neatly organize your guest information, ensuring you don't miss anyone and that all contact details are easily accessible when needed.
